COVID-19 Update for NFAS Accredited Feedlots

As state border restrictions and quarantine requirements are being updated frequently at the moment, ALFA is issuing this general message to all Australian feedlots to remind everyone to continue their efforts in stringent maintenance of on-feedlot hygiene standards and social distancing requirements – it is making a difference – thank you.

Let's continue to work together in sticking to the guidelines. The more disciplined we are, the better chance we have of getting 'back to normal'. Below is a reminder of resources available to you via the ALFA website designed to help keep you up to date on operation requirements.

- COVID-19 Guide for Feedlots (updated 12 June 2020)
- COVID-19 Guidance for an Outbreak in the Feedlot Workplace

Below are the key points to consider for prevention and in the case of a potential COVID case:

- Review your Biosecurity Plan and ensure staff understand procedures
- Practice good hygiene and preventative measures
- Consider your staff rostering and, if possible, manage the roster based on autonomous skillset groups and keep those groups apart to minimise risk.
- Staff resourcing and contingency planning
- Consider screening visitors and deferring non-essential visitors / contractors / suppliers
- Be mindful of where your staff may have travelled

In order to continue operating it is vital that feedlots do all they can to mitigate the risk of spread of the disease and any disruption to business continuity.

If you require any support or assistance, please do not hesitate to contact ALFA directly on 02 9290 3700 or info@feedlots.com.au
